Your day,

I can't thank Pat, Una and Siobhan, and all the staff at Brook Lane enough for all your help on the lead up to our wedding, and on the day, they helped create wonderful memories and Brook Lane is truly a special place for us. we can't wait to come back.'

Let's Be Civil

If you are not getting married in one of the three local churches, our well-appointed dining room easily converts to hold an intimate civil ceremony. Brook Lane is pre-approved and licensed to hold civil ceremonies and we can recommend a local registrar. We are fully familiar with the legalities, fees and paperwork required to hold a civil ceremony and can advise you on all aspects.

Once your service is over, you can enjoy a prosecco reception with your guests while our staff swiftly change the dining room to be ready in time for your reception dinner.

We were blown away by the cohesion of the whole day. From the little details to the overall picture, Una, Pat and the team made our day absolutely perfect.

From the day we walked out the door after our first meeting and we said “This is the place for us”.

The décor is beautiful throughout the hotel and the rooms are extremely comfortable.

Our food both for the wedding meal and for the rest of the weekend was top notch.

If you are seeking a truly special spot for a wonderful winter wedding, I suggest you visit Brook Lane and prepare to fall under its spell.

For The love Of Food

WITHOUT EXCEPTION

Kenmare is the gourmet heaven of the Southwest and at Brook Lane we pride ourselves on our award-winning food. Our ethos is 'farm to fork' and all our ingredients are fresh, seasonal and local. Our rare breed pork and chicken come from our own sustainable farm. We are internationally renowned for our artisan free range pork, having competed in, and won, at the prestigious Fins Goustiers European Championships in France and the Blas na hÉireann Irish Food Awards. We are producers of our own chorizo, salami, pork burgers, hams and dry-cured bacon, as well as keeping our own hens which supply the hotel with fresh eggs every morning. We also use and sell a selection of local products such as bread, cheeses and ice-cream.

We have received rave reviews for our wedding meals and breakfasts, with many guests saying we serve the best food they have ever had at a wedding reception. We cook to order and no request is too much trouble. We are happy to cater for gluten-free, vegan and vegetarian diets, and can also provide a children's menu, so none of your guests will feel left out. Our dining room is warm and welcoming with soft lighting and seating so comfortable that you will want to linger long over dinner.

We could not have asked for the day to go any better. They were an absolute pleasure to deal with and really went out of their way to make things as easy as possible for us. All of the staff were great on the day, an absolute credit to the hotel.

It was particularly noticeable, both on the day itself and after, the number of our guests that mentioned to us how much they enjoyed their respective meal, stay and breakfast the next morning. I think all were in agreement that the food and service were superb, with many saying the food was the best they had eaten at any wedding reception they had attended.

NO 35
RESTAURANT

In addition to Brook Lane, the Brennan family also own No. 35, a restaurant in the heart of Kenmare town. No. 35 is cosy and relaxed with exposed timber beams, hand cut limestone, stained glass windows, and a roaring open fire. No. 35 also contains a small private dining room, the ideal location to host a pre-wedding dinner or post-wedding brunch.

We had a wonderful day start to finish at Brook Lane. From arrival, the hotel looked fabulous and the reception was really lovely, with a great atmosphere. The staff were excellent throughout. On walking into the main room to have our meal the room looked amazing, the tables were set up just as I had pictured with the flowers and my favours placed around the place settings. When the food arrived I could not have asked for more, each course was perfect, and amazingly I ate every bit of all my courses! The guests were super impressed with the food, we had nothing but compliments from all the guests about the menu choice.
